Mr. J. Brian Norton, our new principal, has already done so much for our school during his first year. He is a very dedicated and hard-working principal. Mr. Norton has brought structure and safety to Scotts Hill High School. We congratulate him on his efforts with this dedication in The Lion.

Mrs. Lori Leasure is Scotts Hill High's new assistant principal. She has also brought us a structured schedule, safer hallways, and a friendly face on campus. We would like to thank her for her hard work and all she has done and will do with this dedication in The Lion.

Mrs. Cindy A. Landry, the Sophomore and Junior English teacher, Junior Sponsor, Journalism Instructor and golf coach, has dedicated so much of her personal time to the students of Scotts Hill High School. She is a wonderful asset to our school. Dedicating the 2002 Lion is our way of saying "Thanks and we love you!"

Class of 2002

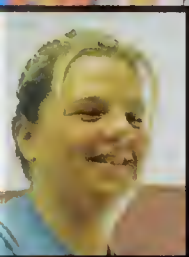

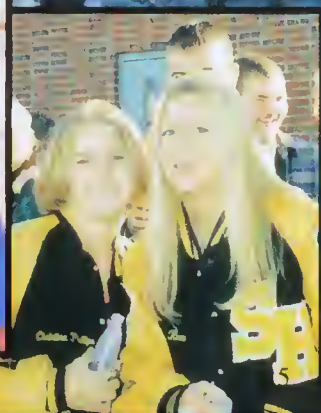

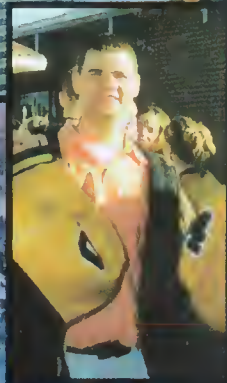

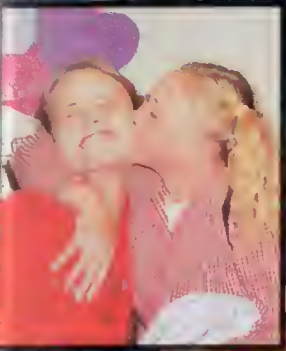

Walking down the aisle to receive our new lives
We cherish every day that's gone by
A flood of emotion envelops our souls--
Memories of our childhood are left untold.

A chapter of our lives is now at an end
But another is so rapidly about to begin
It is to the future that we now look
As we capture our past in this book.

Reliving each memory
Embracing the past

As we bid farewell to Scotts Hill
The school that saved the best for last!

Prophecy for the

I was a Junior when the class of 2002 graduated, so it was fantastic when I moved to Hollywood in 2022 and got a job with a movie studio, only to find that the directors for my first project were Brett Carter and Ashley Ragon. The project was a documentary about small, country towns, featuring their hometown (and mine!), Scotts Hill, Tennessee.

When we arrived at Scotts Hill Airport, we were greeted by Mayor Toni Little, Deputy Mayor Alexandra Kelley, and their bodyguard, Jodie Williams, who had definitely buffed up since high school. Mayor Little began to tell us of the major accomplishments that her fellow graduates had made. She told us that Kim Redding's helpful and loving personality motivated her to start a corporation here in Scotts Hill to help our world's homeless. Toni explained, however, that Kim refuses to take all the credit for the corporation's great success. Kim insists that her close friends and right-hand gals, Kimberly Lindsey, Christina Phillips, and Sabrina Roach, deserve highest notoriety for their outstanding efforts. Mayor Little had a meeting scheduled with local bank CEO's David Greer, Ashley Craig, and Katie Henson, so Brett, Ashley, and I decided to tour the town.

We stopped by Louie's Italian Cafe, where proprietor Rocky Greenway was kind enough to give the three of us free meals. As we ate, we watched dirt bike racing on ESPN on one of Rocky's many big-screen televisions. Brandon Adams made his fifth breathtaking victory of this season, and trophy girl Tia Creason presented him with the monstrous first place trophy. Keeping our hearts pumping, the Talladega 500 came on next. As we were watching the race, there was a terrible crash! With our eyes glued to the action, we noticed three very familiar faces on the medical technicians running across the speedway toward the crash. I commented that they closely favored some of our old classmates Zach Marcum, Lindsey Rogers, and Whitney Siwik. Our waitress confirmed that fact stating Zach, Lindsey, and Whitney had all graduated from Harvard Medical School together. You can really imagine my shock when they were aided with help from nurses Amber M. Smith and Michelle Brewer, more of our old classmates. After the medical team got to the crash, we all let out a sigh of relief when Hall of Fame driver Casey Middleton climbed out of her car. The ironic thing about Miss Middleton's Hall of Fame experience is that she is in the NASCAR Hall of Fame for the most CRASHES, not the most WINS! At the scene was reporter Vanessa Ferguson who assured her viewers that everyone would be just fine.

We then left Louie's and decided to visit our old school. There we saw elementary teachers Ashley Bedwell and April Rushing. While we were touring the school, we went out to the playground where proud parents and PTO presidents Leslie Haggard and Jackie Hatchett were supervising the construction of the new playground equipment.

When we left the school, we went downtown to Robby Scott's pool hall, most affectionately known as Boo Boo's Place. There we ran into Jesse's deputies (yes, Jesse is still around), Scotts Hill's finest, Josh Muckelvaney and Benjamin Schultz, dressed to a T with their badges shining.

Class of 2002

After all of the running around we had been doing, we needed to fuel up, so we stopped at Ross Moody's Pee Wee Shop and Save. (Rumor has it that Ross acquired the business as the result of some lawsuit, but no one knows for sure.) While we were there, we decided to have mechanics Mitchell Bingham and Jerry Moody change the oil in our van. They have apparently developed quite a name for themselves as ace mechanics in the area.

Next, we stopped by Bethany Roger's hair shop, Bethany's Beauty Boutique, and got massages from Amber R. Smith. Completely relaxed, we stopped by Miranda Cupples's tanning salon, Miranda's Tanning Viranda, where all of us bought new bathing suits and tanning oil, because you never know where our next project will be. While Ashley was checking us out, Brett noticed a PRO-HOUNDS magazine with champion coon hunters Steven England and Ray Horton on the cover. Those boys apparently kept their eyes on the prize!

Very tired by now, we decided to go back to the hotel for a rest. On the walk back, we went into Stephanie Turpin's bookstore where we purchased Misty Ward's newest novel, Chicken Soup for the High School Student's Soul, which we noticed was published by Andrew Stanfill and Chris McClure. Renowned literary critics Nicole Evans and Lori Smith were sitting in the corner discussing Miss Ward's novel over a couple of lattes.

When we got back to the hotel, I turned on the television and caught highlights from the previous night's NBA championship game. Clint Myracle of the Memphis Grizzlies was named MVP, no surprise on my part. Next on was "Wading with Warren," a show dedicated to tips from champion duck caller Jeremy Warren.

Later that night we headed to watch Grammy winner Emily Fesmire in concert. She sang beautifully with Adam Carver playing back up guitar. Remembering their love of music, I realized why they had succeeded! As we listened we chatted with the owners of B & E's Mossy Oak Shop, Josh Eason and Blake Bridges. (They do take a break from hunting every once in a while!) Other celebrities there were WWF Champion wrestler Daniel Johnson and Don King's newest prize, Golden Glove boxer Josh White. It was no surprise to find Matthew Pearson as their manager/trainer.

The next day, to finish up our tour, we drove down to Jody Tucker's Custom Dodge dealership where Major League Baseball players Corey Stewart and J. D. Inman were shooting a commercial for the dealership. While we were there, we spotted foreign ambassador Gail Moon, along with her assistant Peggy Irvin, buying a new customized Dodge truck from salesman Jonathan Austin. The dealership's computer was on the fritz, so they called in engineer Tyler Lindsay, Dewayne Ballard, and Hank Rosson to fix them.

Our documentary on Scotts Hill was pretty much wrapped up, so we were to be on our way back to Hollywood shortly. On the plane back, I looked over and noticed two young women who seemed very engrossed in their paperwork. When I got one of the lady's attention, I found out that she was Sylvia Harmon, and the lady with her was Storme McClure. They said they had just become agents for the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and their first assignment was in Hollywood. What a coincidence!

After we got home, I looked back through our film reels and thought, "My! What a progressive town Scotts Hill had become!"

Lil' Buddy,

On October 3, 1983, one of the most precious things in life was given to us, and that was you.

As the years have passed, we've watched you become a very strong, caring, and understanding young man. You have made us so happy and proud. And as you make a life of your own, we are sure you will do the same.

SENIOR CLASS 2002

FOR YOU I WISH

I wish for you a contented life
 Filled with love and grace
 For there is no greater joy for me
 Than a smile upon your face.
 But when times get hard and you feel pain,
 I hope that all your pride
 Won't keep me from where I want to be,
 And that is by your side.

I wish for you a life of great wealth
 If that's for what you yearn.
 But if it's not, I'll be just as proud
 No matter what you earn.
 For you see, my son, it's not those things
 That set some men apart.
 It's not what's in your bank account.
 But what's truly in your heart.

I wish for you a life of your own....
 The way you want it to be.
 The path you choose and where it may lead
 Will not be up to me.
 Wherever you go, whatever you become,
 No matter what you do,
 You'll always have my love and support.
 I wish the best for you

With all our love,
 Mama, Daddy, and Chase

I LOVE YOU !

ZACH,

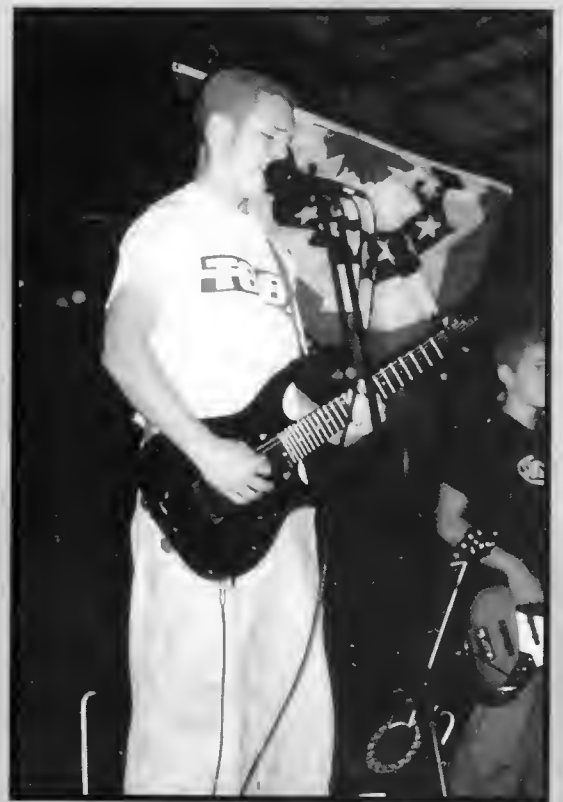

YOU HAVE MADE IT ! I AM SO PROUD OF YOU ! I HOPE THIS YEAR HAS BEEN THE BEST EVER. WE HAVE BEEN THROUGH THE WORST AND THE BEST TIMES, BUT WE PULLED THROUGH IT ALL. I LOVE YOU WITH ALL OF MY HEART. NO MATTER WHAT, I WILL ALWAYS BE HERE FOR YOU.

your all. We pray God will richly bless you!
We Love you.

Congratulations

Miranda

It seemed as though it was only yesterday when you came into our lives. You brought so much joy to hearts, and even more joy you bring us now. I recall the first strawberry shortcake doll that I bought you when you were born. It seems odd just last year we were buying you your first car. Mom and I are very proud of you. You are a very pretty young lady.

What makes you special is your attitude and love for others, always keep it that way. I look back over the years of you growing up and I can really say that the only problem that I had with you was when you and Shawn would have those brother and sister fights. I personally think that is a great record. Make sure you get a good education and a great job making good money so Mom and I can retire early, HA! Always keep God in your focus and when those problems in life surface like they always do it's much easier to handle them and make the right decision. We love you more than you will ever know.

Love Mom, Dad and
Shawn
